What is In-Training Support?

In-Training Support delivers tailored advice and support to eligible Australian Apprentices/Trainees who need additional assistance in training. Includes:

- Mentoring for your Apprentice or Trainee; both face-to-face or phone support at a time convenient to your business
- Referral to local support agencies
- Buddy and peer support
- Access to online employability and life skills courses
- Access to online support community
- VOICE Psychology Services

What does this mean to me as an Employer?

You will be supported to find the most suitable candidates, and then once they commence, we work together to support them to complete. This means:

- Better staff retention
- Improved performance
- Significant savings to your bottom line call us to discuss your needs

How much does In-Training Support cost?

Sarina Russo Apprenticeships offer In-Training Support FREE to eligible Apprentices/Trainees, as part of our contractual agreement with the Federal Government.

The only cost to you is the small investment of time to allow your Apprentice/Trainee to connect to this service at a time convenient to you.

Is my Apprentice/Trainee eligible for In-Training Support?

- Eligibility is needs based, and support is customised to suit the needs of the Apprentice/Trainee.

How do we access In-Training Support?

- Our Support Team will contact your Apprentice/Trainee in the week following sign up to assess eligibility and provide more information.
- The Support Team will also make contact throughout the first three months following sign up to ensure all is tracking well.
- If circumstances change, feel free to call our Support Team to discuss your needs.
